MATTHEW LAST

ICSF Chair

Hello everyone, and welcome to the 37th Annual Picocon!

You are in for a wonderful day full of talks, panels, Silly Games, merchandise smashing and fictitious fish fighting. Our Picocon Sofa and Beanbag have been hard at work all year round, aided by many volunteers, to bring this wonderful convention to life and we all hope you enjoy every second of it. Look to the Sofa's editorial to find out more about the day.

I am pleased to report that, thanks to the continued efforts of a wonderful community and hardworking committee, the library remains a den of escapism and nerdiness. Highlights of this year so far have included hazardously joyful events such as our Christmas and Halloween parties, weekly Doctor Who viewings and the odd mafia takeover. We continue our expansion into the fields of membership (More people!), the Dyson library (More books!) and IC Radio (Our podcast every Wednesday from 3PM!). Do pop down to the library itself if you'd like a quick visit over the course of the day.

We have plenty more planned for the rest of the year, but for now I shall wish you all a happy and entertaining Picocon! ΨΦ

• THE SOFA'S RAMBLINGS : WHY PRIDE? •

HARRY BLACK

Picocon Sofa

Welcome one and all to Picocon 37: Pride!

Why Pride, you might be asking? Well let me explain:

Picocon has always[†] fallen within LGBT History Month in the UK. I myself happen to be asexual, and have found a good number of my fellow ICSF members to fall somewhere in the LGBTQ+ community. Science Fiction and Fantasy, as genres, often seem to me to be about exploring our world, but through the lens of a very different world: it is unsurprising then, that these genres are used to tell the story of LGBTQ+ characters more than other genres[‡]. With this in mind, I decided (before Picocon 36 had even occurred) that I wanted Picocon 37 to be about highlighting LGBTQ+ characters and creators in the genres Picocon has always been about celebrating.

Just over a year later, and that plan seems to have just about come together! We have 3 truly brilliant Guests of Honour this year: I must say a huge thank you to Roz Kaveney, Juliet Kemp and Tamsyn Muir, as without them we would not have much of a Picocon at all this year—and they'll certainly be far more entertaining and interesting than I could hope to be!

Of course, we'll have many returning traditions and vendors! For health and safety reasons, there will most certainly not be any duels fought with fish, which means that the newly acquired safety gear (lab coats & paintball masks) will not be needed. This definitely will not occur on the Queen's Lawn later in the day, as it never has.

We will of course also be employing liquid nitrogen to destroy some merchandise that looks as though it shouldn't have been made, and playing many of the silly convention games that we always do (I hear this year we may be playing a large game of Mafia) while raising some money for some spectacular charities: Switchboard and Stonewall.

Have fun! ΨΦ

[†][citation needed]

[‡]again, [citation needed]. I may be making this up entirely!

• WHAT'S ON •

To returning guests and first-timers alike: welcome! Here's a look forward in time into your day ahead at Picocon.

Throughout the day there will be talks from our illustrious Guests of Honour, as well as a panel discussion — chaired this year by the brilliant Yasmin Benoit — followed by book signings.

Meanwhile, other exciting activities are happening across the campus:

DESTRUCTION OF DODGY MERCHANDISE.

@Queen's Lawn 16:00 - 16:30

Join a bidding war and contend for the right to rescue pieces of misguided merchandise from terrible death—or to personally exact their destruction by way of liquid nitrogen and giant hammer. All proceeds go towards charity: this year we are collaborating with the LGBT+ helpline Switchboard, and the LGBT rights charity Stonewall.

TABLETOP & GAMING.

@Blackett 1004 16:00 onwards

Imperial College Gaming returns to Picocon this year to provide another set of entertaining diversions, with consoles in Blackett 1004 from 4PM into the evening running some of our most popular games.

SCI-FI LIBRARY.

@Beit West Basement

The Sci-Fi Library—home to a collection of over 9800 books, 2600 DVDs, and more than 500 graphic novels—is open throughout the day. Pay a visit during a break and say hi to the residents.

Absent from this list, as you might have noticed, is a fish duel. This is because a fish duel is not something that happens at Picocon.

• GUESTS OF HONOUR •

• JULIET KEMP •

Juliet Kemp is a queer, non-binary writer. They live in London by the river, with their partners, kid, and dog. Their recent works include the fantasy novel The Deep And Shining Dark (featured on the Locus 2018 Recommended Reads list, under 'first novel') and the YA SF novella A Glimmer Of Silver. When not writing, child-wrangling, or dog-wrangling, Juliet knits, indulges their fountain pen habit, and goes bouldering.

• ROZ KAVENEY •

Roz Kaveney in her own words: I'm a bit older than most people in the fandom—I just turned 52. I have a long and complicated personal history which I am in the process of turning into a huge memoir; crucial facts are that I was reared Catholic but got over it, was born male but got over it, stopped sleeping with boys about the time I stopped being one and am much happier than I was when I was younger.

A UK resident who has lived in the US a bit, I have a certain distinction in the SF field as a critic, have at various points been seriously involved in civil liberties and anti-censorship politics and write for various reasonably reputable newspapers and periodicals.

I like moonlighting as a committed fan: I never had that much serious credibility to lose, and haven't lost what I had anyway. I spend too much time listening to an unholy mixture of Bach, Shostakovich, Springsteen, Patti Smith, Ella Fitzgerald and Lotte Lenya.

• TAMSYN MUIR •

Tamsyn Muir is a horror, fantasy and sci-fi author whose works have appeared in Nightmare Magazine, F&SF, Fantasy Magazine, Weird Tales, and Clarkesworld. Her fiction has received nominations for the Nebula Award, the Shirley Jackson Award, the World Fantasy Award and the Eugie Foster Memorial Award. She has spent the majority of her life in Howick, New Zealand, with time spent living in Waiuku and central Wellington. She currently lives and teaches in Oxford, in the United Kingdom.

• VENDORS •

Discover artwork, trinkets, old books, new obsessions:

BEST IN GALAXY.

@Blackett Foyer

Best in Galaxy started as a comedy sci-fi parody podcast in 2016, which morphed from a Star Wars parody into its own universe. It won a Parsec Award for Best Comedy in 2017 and gained a cult following, becoming a novel and audiobook in late 2019. Writer and co-creator Mark Restuccia is here today with paperback copies and info about the podcast and the Best in Galaxy universe.

PAUL COUPER.

@Blackett Foyer

A reader/collector of SF/Fantasy, selling at Picocon to clear duplicates built up whilst collecting and upgrading. My collection is now over 12,000 paperbacks, but still has many gaps: if anyone has collectibles for sale, or wants to buy, or indeed just wants a chat, stop by during the day.

CLOCKWORK FIREBIRD DESIGNS.

@Blackett Foyer

I am a self-taught, ever-evolving tailor, leather worker and costume maker with a penchant for creating monsters. I attend Live Action Role-Play (LARP) events and Anime/Comic conventions as both a trader and attendee on a regular basis. I've been doing leather work since 2008, and selling since 2011. I recall learning to sew when I was 6 years old and I've not really stopped since. Within the shop you may find armour, masks, trinkets, painted artworks, soft toys . . . anything I bring to mind or feel like turning my hand to! I am still finding my feet, and I am always learning new techniques.

ELSEWHEN PRESS.

@Blackett Foyer

Elsewhen Press are a small independent publisher specialising in Speculative Fiction. Their Earth-based operations are headquartered in the UK, in the South East of England, whence they publish titles in English in print and electronic editions—including works by Guest of Honour Juliet Kemp.

• QUEST OBJECTIVES •

On your way in, you should have been assigned to one of three teams—Jughead, Captain Jack Harkness, or Sulu—and given a sticky badge to wear with newfound pride. If somehow you slipped through the net, or misplaced your badge, then go and politely berate the receptionists until they give you one.

On the next page, you will find a list of dangerous, potentially impossible items. Find any of these items, bring the evidence back to the front desk, and win fabulous prizes—in the form of points for your team. Whichever team ends up with the most points will be declared the finest, the greatest, and most importantly, the winners!

Now go for great justice.

This year's teams are (drumroll):

• TEAM •
JUGHEAD

• TEAM •
CAPTAIN JACK HARKNESS

• TEAM •
SULU

ADDITIONAL INSTRUCTIONS.

- Items can be submitted to the Front Desk for Fun Points™ after 11am.
- Pictures are (usually) not admissible.
- Objectives involving people must only be undertaken with the person's permission.
- The front desk reserves the right to keep the submitted items.
- Unless otherwise noted, each faction may claim an item on the list only once.
